

---

Job Title: Production and Research Technician

Company:

Fully Global, LLC is a growing company producing consumables and components for the high-tech industry. Fully Global offers competitive salaries and benefits, and opportunities for full-time employment and career advancement.

Job Description:

We have an opening for a technician to contribute to the growth of our company by participating in our production operations, identifying and implementing process improvements, and streamlining our processes.

Competencies Required:

We seek talented individuals willing to take on varied assignments with a “hands-on” approach. You should be familiar with the current suite of computer office tools, have a good mechanical aptitude and a solid technical or science background. We foster a dynamic environment in which the right candidate will quickly be able to identify and make important contributions to the success of our organization.

Minimum high school degree or equivalent; additional education or training in a science-related field helpful.

Contact:

Please send resumes to the following address:
dnevoret@appliedscientific.net
Fully Global, LLC
85 Harrisburg Drive
Englewood, OH 45322